

Megan Suttman

Megan has been an educator for most of her adult life, working predominantly on farms, in forests and in gardens. She holds degrees in Waldorf Education and Biblical Studies. Megan says she was drawn to the Waldorf pedagogy because of its recognition of children's inherent spirituality and connection to our Creator and the natural world. Her life's work has been done from this very understanding, and she has a deep reverence for each child she encounters. Megan is the Director of Family Engagement at Christ Church Cathedral.
